Method 1 – Outsourcing Social Media Services

Social media, in today's society, has become an almost vital aspect to our everyday life. Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Vine, are all networks millions of people around the world use on a daily basis.

If you didn't already know, plenty of websites and people sell social media boosting services. For example, people sell Facebook likes, Twitter followers, Instagram followers, and more. People and businesses purchase these for personal use, as well as to give themselves a better company image.

We are going to outsource work for ourselves to turn a profit. We will be reselling social media services, from providers (I'll teach you how to find them) to earn ourselves money.

This method is divided into two sub-methods. Both can earn you massive amounts of profits every day.

Our first method will require a Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, any social media account that has a decent following. For Facebook, you can use your personal one as long as you have a decent of friends you know in real life. Twitter and Instagram accounts with a large amount of followers can work as well.

Basically, we will be selling social media services to our friends or to people we know through social media networks. Let me show you.

Income Paradise

The first thing to do is find a verified and reputable social media seller that we can buy from. There are two websites I'd recommend using to find a seller, and those are HackForums and Fiverr.

HackForums is a great place to buy social media services as, not only will you be able to find cheap prices, but most shops are very highly vouched and trusted. You will not have to worry about being scammed if you do your research.

Check out some of the shops that have a decent amount of pages of replies. Take your time looking for a shop. Make sure to choose one that has low prices, but also no negative reviews.

Another website you can use is Fiverr. If you haven't already heard of it, Fiverr is a website where you can buy services of a wide variety for only $5.

Simply type into the search box a social media service. Something like "Twitter Followers" or "Instagram Followers" and you'll find dozens of results. I recommend HF over this as Fiverr does not always have the best prices. It is also harder to stay organized, whereas on HF you can easily find all the services in one person's shop.

Now, I will teach you where you can sell these services!

The first place is on Facebook. I'm sure tons of your friends would be interested in social media services for Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, etc. Heck, look at this, only took two minutes of work!

alright ill do that

Now, this will work for some friends and not for others. I already knew this girl ran a popular fitness Instagram, so it does require a bit of thought. You can collect cash, or also PayPal or even Bitcoin for your services, depending on how tech savvy your friends are. Simply send your friends list a mass message saying something like, “Selling Instagram followers, Facebook likes, Twitter retweets (or anything else you want to include) for cheap! Reply back if interested :D”

The rest is simple enough. Collect the money from those interested, and use it to purchase the social media services for them on HF or Fiverr.

Income Paradise

Have all your customers provide you with their social media link and any other information you might need to get the job done.

Also if you don't have any friends that would be interested in this service. You can create a twitter page labeled along the lines "Social media services." Your next step is to find a page where the person runs a profile based on a same thing.

This profile is perfect, now you will follow everyone that follows that twitter account you picked. You can also find a bot to automatically do it for you but doing it yourself is easy still. Now you will just wait until people direct message you wanting to buy your service. Make sure you list that you sell followers on your account, leave a way of contact like Email or Skype, and post pictures of your prices.

Method 1.5 – Outsourcing Bonus

Everybody is looking for programmers. We can take advantage of this demand to make a serious income online. Fiverr.com has some amazing programmers who are willing to work for a cheap price of $5.

We can then resell the program for over $50 which would mean that we get to pocket $45. If you make 3 sales per day, that's an easy $135 straight to your bank account.

Here is a great example of a service that you can outsource.

Since a lot of people on Forums use CPA / PDD, you can easily sell this service on Forums for around $30 and buy the service somewhere else for $5.

I highly recommend choosing a service where your buyer won't find out that you got the same thing for a cheaper price.

iPhone niches can be really profitable since not many people think of reselling this.

Income Paradise

The first gig involves app advertising. The seller of that gig will get you 52 ratings on the app store, along with 5 reviews that are linked with Google Plus to a free app.

The second gig revolves around registering your Apple account into a developer account. This means that you can get every single update before everybody else does for only $5.

Both of these services can be resold for over $50 and that would still be a great price.

If you're not into the niches I've listed above, then this should spark your creative side. On Forums, there are many people looking for company logos and signatures. You can go onto Fiverr and find some beautiful designs that you can resell for a higher price.

Here are just a few design gigs that I found in under a minute. I recommend that you find a designer that doesn't include any sort of copyright so you can outsource the designs to your customers.

Method 2 -Physical Items

We'll be selling physical items that we create. You can sell t-shirts, mugs, iPhone cases, and much more. I have a lot of customers by selling iPhone cases since they cost a very little amount of money and are extremely easy to design.

I sell these products at school, Craigslist, and to family. For this eBook, I will go through creating an iPhone case, but you can also design hoodies, and other products the same way.

I recommend sticking to these sites when you design your products.

- CafePress (Should be used for iPhone cases, etc.)
- Spreadshirt (Should be used for shirts, hoodies, etc.)

Income Paradise

It's extremely simple to create and upload designs. If you're skilled with Photoshop then you can make your own designs. Otherwise, you can either hire a designer or create basic designs with the CafePress designer.

You can also become an affiliate for CafePress and help sell existing products for a commission, but I recommend making your own products.

Once you have an idea of a product you want to make, simply find the product from the "Create" list at the top of the screen and start designing.

Income Paradise

Once you're done designing, just click "I'm Finished!" and ship your product to your address or customers address.

These cases cost around $30 each so make sure you make your customer pays first so then you don't need to put in any of your own money into this and to make sure the person does not back out of the deal.

What I recommend also doing is contacting local companies and asking if they need iPhone cases, iPad cases, mugs, shirts, and then tell them to pay you $40-50 per iPhone case. Then you can sell these cases to them for a profit. If you choose to sell shirts, they only cost $17.50 each, so you can make custom shirts and sell them for around $30.

If the local company likes the product you supply then the first time, they will then most likely keep contacting you to order more. The goal here is to become reliable business partners.

Method 3 - Reputation management.

All businesses are looking to maintain their online reputation. Restaurants have to keep a high reputation in order to make sure that they can beat other competitors with ease. We can use this to our advantage and start making money.

Sites such as Google display a business's rating. It shows customer reviews, their experience, and the rating of the business.

Our main job is to contact the business and let them know that their reputation sucks online. We need them to feel like our services will help them in a phenomenal way.

All you need to do is find their business email and send them an email like the one included below. I recommend doing this with small businesses since their reputation matters a lot more.

Dear (Name),

My name is (Your Name) and I'm an online reputation management located in (City / State). I'm sure that I've helped your business out before or helped a business near you before with their online reputation.

Here's the catch:

Income Paradise

I can help your (business) with their online reputation. Customers look at your business before they even step foot inside of your door. The bad reviews are just making more and more customers turn to your competitors. If you didn't already know, over 80% of customers check online before purchasing a product or service. I can help you suppress or even clear up your bad reputation. I can guarantee you a ton of legitimate 5 star reviews that will make you look professional and take away those bad apples.

We can discuss the costs. I offer a quick clean up and I can even include my free reputation management eBook that will teach you how to stay positive after my services.

Sincerely,

(Your Name)

Send out this email to as many businesses as you can. Overall, around 3-5 businesses will contact you within 48 hours.

Managing reputation.

You have your client and you're ready to start managing their reputation. I would charge them around $50-150 depending on how many negative reviews they have.

To start removing negative reviews. Simply click on the little grey flag in the top right of the review.

If that doesn't work, you'll need to start doing a little bit of work. All you have to do is make a ton of Google accounts and start writing positive reviews on the business's page.

Make sure that the reviews look real. If you have some trouble you can always find good reviews from other restaurants and copy them.
